REFLECTIONS

UPON RECEIVING A COPY OF MY FIRST POEM PUBLISHED IN A VILLAGE NEWSPAPER.

Ah! here it is! I'm famous now—
An author and a poet!
It really is in print! Ye Gods!
How proud I'll be to show it!
And gentle Anna! what a thrill
Will animate her breast,
To read these ardent lines and know
To whom they are addressed.

Why, bless my soul! here's something strange,
What can the paper mean,
By talking of the "graceful brooks,
That gander o'er the green?"
And here's a T instead of R,
Which makes it "tippling rill;"
"Will seek the shad" instead of shade,
And "hell" instead of "hill."

"They look so—what? I recollect
'Twas "sweet" and then 'twas "kind,"
And now to think the stupid fool
For "Stand" has printed "Blind!"
Was ever such provoking work?
'Tis curious, by the by,
How anything is rendered blind
By giving it an eye.

"Hast thou no tears"—the T's left out—
"Hast thou no ears" instead;
"I hope that thou art dear" is put
"I hope that thou art dead."
Who ever saw in such a space
So many blunders crammed?
"Whose gentle eyes bedimmed" is spelt
"Those gentle eyes be d—d!"

"The color of the rose" is "nose,"
"Affection" is "affliction;"
I wonder if the likeness holds
In fact as well as diction?
"Thou art a friend," the R is gone:
Whoever would have deemed
That such a trifling thing could change
A "friend" into a "fiend!"

"Thou art the same" is rendered "lame,"
It really is too bad;
And here because an "I" is out,
My "lovely maid" is "mad!"
They drove her blind by poking in
An eye—a process now;
And now they've gouged it out again,
And made her crazy, too.

"Where are the muses fled, that thou
Shouldst live so long unsung,"
Thus read my version—here it is—
"Shouldst live so long unhung!"
"The fate of woman's love is thine,"
An H commences "fate;"
How small a circumstance will change
A woman's love to hate!

I'll read no more! what shall I do?
I'll never dare to send it;
The paper's scattered far and wide—
'Tis now too late to mend it.
Oh, fame! thou cheat of human bliss—
Why did I ever write!
I wish my poem had been burnt
Before it saw the light.

Let's stop and recapitulate:
I've damned her eyes, that's plain—
I've told her she's a lunatic.
And blind and deaf and lame!
Was ever such a horrid hash
In poetry or prose?
I've said she was a fiend, and praised
The color of her nose.
I wish I had that editor
About a half a minute—
I'd "hang" him to his heart's content,
And with an "H" begin it.

Select Miscellany.

THE CABIN BOY.

On my way across the Sound I fell in with two old sea captains—John Streeter and Asa Morton—whom I had some slight acquaintance. Captain Streeter was about three score, and had followed the sea during most of his life. Morton was considerably younger, but still a seaman of much experience. The subject of the abolition of flogging in our navy come up in course of conversation, and Captain Morton expressed himself very decidedly in favor of that time honored institution, the cat-o' nine-tails.

"I am not prepared to say," remarked Captain Streeter, in reply, "that the condition of our man-o'-warsmen will be in every case benefited by the abolition of flogging; though I am sure it might be so. I mean that the officers have it in their power to do away with all kinds of punishment. I mean, of course, for such offences as are usually punished on shipboard."

"For my part," returned Morton, "I shouldn't care to take command of a ship, if the power of punishing refractory seamen as I thought proper were taken from me."

"Well," said Capt. Streeter, "I used to think just so. In fact, there were but few masters more passionate or severe than I was. Men used to run away from me, and on more than one occasion my life has been in danger from the violence of men whom I had abused. I used the cat and the rope's end almost as freely as I used my tongue; and I used to wonder how it happened that I always had the luck to get such bad men.

"When I was about forty years of age I took command of the ship Petersham.—She was an old craft, and had seen full as much service as she was capable of seeing with safety. But her owners were willing to trust a valuable cargo in her, so I would not refuse to trust myself. We were bound to Liverpool, and nothing unusual happened until about the eighth day out, when we ran foul of a small iceberg.—It was early in the morning before sunrise, and not above six or eight feet of ice was out of water, it having been nearly all melted away in the warm waters of the Gulf Stream. I did not think we had sustained much injury, for the shock was slight; but I was very angry and gave the lookout a severe punishment, without first stopping to enquire whether he could have seen the berg in season to escape it.

My cabin boy was named Jack Withers. He was fourteen years of age, and this was his first voyage. I had taken him from a widowed mother, and had promised to see him well treated—that was, if he behaved himself. He was a bright, quick, intelligent lad, but I soon made myself believe that he had an awful disposition. I fancied he was the most stubborn piece of humanity I had ever come across. I made up my mind he had never been properly governed, and resolved to break him in. I told him I'd curb his temper before I had done with him. In reply he told me I might kill him if I liked; and I flogged him with the end of the mizzen top-gallant halliards till he could hardly stand. I asked him if he had enough, and he told me that I might flog him more if I wished it. I felt a strong inclination to throw the boy overboard, but at that moment he staggered back against the mizzen-mast from absolute weakness, and I left him to himself. When I reasoned calmly about the boy's disposition I was forced to acknowledge that he was one of the smartest and most faithful lads I had ever seen. When I asked him to do anything he would be off like a rocket, but when I roughly ordered him too do it, then came the disposition with which I found fault.

One day, when it was very near noon, I spoke to him, and told him to go below and bring up my quadrant. He was looking over the quarter-rail, and I knew he did not hear me, and the next time I spoke I ripped out an oath, and intimated that if he didn't move I'd help him."

"I didn't hear ye," he said, with rather an independent tone.

"No words," said I.

"I s'pose I can speak," he retorted, moving slowly towards the companion-way.

His looks, words, and the slow careless manner in which he moved, fired me in a moment, and I grasped him by the collar.

"Speak to me again like that, and I'll flog you within an inch of your life," said I.

"You can flog away," he replied, firm and undaunted as a rock.

And I did flog him. I caught up the end of a rope and beat him till my arm fairly ached; but he never winced.

"How's that?" said I.

"There's a little more life in me you'd better flog out," was his reply.

And I beat him again. I beat him till he sank from my hand against the rail; and then I sent one of the men for my quadrant. When it came, and I adjusted it for my observation I found that the sun was already past the meridian, and that I was too late. This added fuel to the fire of my madness, and quickly seizing the lad by the collar, I led him to the main hatchway, and had the hatch taken off. I then thrust him down and swore I would keep him there till his stubbornness was broken. The hatch was then put on, and I went into the cabin. I suffered a good deal that afternoon, not with any compunctions for what I had done, but with my own temper and bitterness. It made me mad to think that I could not conquer that boy; that I could not break down his cool opposition. "But I will do it," I said to myself, "by the heavens above me, I'll starve him into it, or he shall die under the operation."

After supper I went to the hatchway, and called out to him, but he returned me no answer. So I closed the hatch and went away. At ten o'clock I called again, and again I got no answer. I might have thought that the flogging had taken away his senses, had not some of the men assured me that they had heard him, not an hour before, talking to himself. I did not trouble him again until morning. After breakfast I went to the hatchway and called out to him once more. I heard nothing from him, nor could I see him—I had not seen him since I put him down there. I called out to him several times, but he would make no reply—and yet the same men told me they had heard him talking that very morning. He seemed to be calling on them for help, but he would not ask me. I meant to break him into it. "He'll beg before he'll starve," I thought, and so I determined to let him stay there. I supposed that he had crawled forward to the forecastle bulk-head, in order to make the sailors hear him. Some of the men asked leave to go down and look after him, but I refused. I threatened to punish the first man who dared to go down.

At noon I went again, and as he did not answer me this time, I resolved that he should come to the hatchway and ask for me ere I went any more. The day passed away, and when evening came again I began to be startled. I thought of the many good qualities the boy had, and of his widowed mother. He had been in the hold thirty-six hours, and all of forty without food or drink. He must be too weak to cry out now. It was hard for me to give up, but if he died there from absolute starvation, it might go harder with me still. So at length I made up my mind to go and see him. It was not quite sundown when I had the hatch taken off, and I jumped down upon the boxes alone. A little way forward I saw a space where Jack might easily have gone down, and to that point I crawled on my hands and knees. I called out there, but could hear no answer. A short distance farther was a wide space, which I had entirely forgotten, but which I now remember had been left open on account of a break in the flooring of the hold, which would have let anything that might have been stowed there rest directly upon the thin planking of the ship.

To this place I made my way, and looked down. I heard the splashing of water, and I thought I could detect a sound like the incoming of a tinty jet, or stream.—At first I could see nothing, but as soon as I became used to the dim light, I could distinguish the faint outlines of the boy at some distance below me. He seemed to be sitting upon the broken floor, with his feet stretched out against a cask. I called out to him, and thought he looked up.

"Jack are you here?"

And he answered me in a faint, weary tone—

"Yes, help me! For heaven's sake, help me! Bring men, and bring a lantern—the ship has sprung a leak."

I hesitated, and he added, in a more eager tone—

"Make haste—I will try to hold it till you come back."

I waited to hear no more, but hurried on deck as soon as possible, and returned with a lantern and three men. I leaped down beside the boy, and could scarcely believe the evidence of my senses. Three of the timbers were completely worm-eaten to the very heart, and one of the outer planks had been broken, and would burst in any moment the boy might leave it, whose feet were braced against the cask before him. Half-a-dozen little jets of water were streaming in about him, and he was wet to the skin. I saw that the plank must burst in the moment the strain was removed from it, so I made my men brace themselves against it before I lifted him up. Other men were called down with planks, and spikes, and adzes, and, with much care and much trouble, we finally succeeded in stopping the leak, and averting the danger. The plank which had been stove in was six feet long by eight inches wide, and would let in a stream of water of that capacity. It would have been beyond our reach long ere we could have discovered it, and we would have sunk in a very short time. I knew it must be where the iceberg struck us.

Jack Withers was taken to the cabin, and managed to tell his story. Shortly after I put him in the hold he crawled forward, and when he became used to the dim glimmer that came through the deadlights, looked about for a snug place in which to lie, for his limbs were stiff and sore. He went to sleep, and when he awoke he heard a faint sound, like water, streaming through a small hole. He went to the open place in the cargo, and looked down, and in a few minutes found that the timbers had given wholly away, and the stream was increasing in size.—He placed his hands upon the plank, and found it broken, and also discovered that the pressure of the water without was forcing it inward. He had sense enough to see that if it gained an inch more it must all go, and the ship be lost, and perhaps all hands perish. And he saw, too, that if he could keep the broken plank in its place, he might stop the incoming flood. So he sat himself upon it, and braced his feet against the cask, and then called for help. But he was so far away, so low down with such a dense mass of the cargo about him, that his voice scarcely reached other ears than his own. Some of the men heard him, but they thought he was talking to himself.

And there he sat, with his feet braced, for four-and-twenty dreary hours, with the water spurting in tiny streams all over him, drenching him to the skin. He had thought several times of going to the hatching and calling for help; but he knew that the broken plank would be forced in if he left it, for he could feel it heave beneath him. His strength was failing him—his limbs were racked with pain—but he would not give it up. I asked him if he should not have given up if I had not come as I did. He answered that he could not have done it while he had life in him. He said he thought not of himself—he was ready to die—but he would save the rest if he could—and he had saved us, surely saved us all, from a watery grave.

That boy lay sick in the cabin for many days—sick almost unto death; but I nursed him with my own hands—nursed him all through his delirium; and when his reason returned, and he could sit up and talk, I bowed myself before him, and humbly asked his pardon for all the wrong I had done him. He threw his arms about my neck, and told me if I would be good to him he would never give me cause for offence; and added as he sat up again—"I am not a coward—I couldn't be a dog."

From that hour I never forgot those words; and from that hour I have never struck a blow on board my ship. I make my men feel that they are men—that I so regard them, and that I wish to make them as comfortable and as happy as possible; and I have not failed to gain their respect and confidence. I give no undue license, but make my crew feel that they have a friend and superior in the same person. For nine years I sailed in three different ships, with the same crew. A man couldn't be hired to leave me save for an officer's berth.

And Jack Withers remained with me thirteen years. He was my cabin boy; one of the foremost hands; my second mate; and the last time he sailed with me refused the command of a new bark because he would not be separated from me. But he is a captain now, and one of the best this country ever afforded. Such, gentlemen, is my experience in government and discipline on shipboard.

"I Dare Refuse to Fight."

After school at night, George joined some boys who were amusing themselves by sliding down hill on their sleds.—George had drawn his sled up to the top of the hill, and was riding down again, when one of the boys, to tease him, drew his sled directly in the path, so that when George's sled came in contact with it he was thrown off into the snow. George was inclined to be angry at first; but he soon recollected himself, and thought "if I do not get angry now, this will be a triumph, I am sure."

All the boys gathered around him and said, "Give it to him, George; give it to him. I would pay him well for that."

"No," said George: "if he has done wrong, that is no reason why I should do wrong too."

"It is because you dare not fight me, that you have grown so wonderful good all at once," said the boy who had thrown him from his sled.

George felt his spirit begin to rise at this taunt; but he knew he was in the right of it and he answered calmly:

"I dare refuse to fight, notwithstanding your sneers; and I leave you to judge which requires the greatest courage."

All the boys knew that George was right, and had displayed the best and most difficult kind of courage: so they urged him no more to fight, and even the boy who had thrown him from the sled could not help feeling ashamed of his conduct.

☞ The Rev. Mr. A. was more eminent in his day for the brilliancy of his imagination than the force of his logic.—At one time he was preaching on "the Ministry of Angels," and in the peroration he suddenly observed, "I hear a whisper!" The change of tone startled the deacon, who sat below, from a drowsy mood, and springing to his feet, he said. "I guess it is the boys in the gallery!"

☞ An old fellow who became weary of his life, thought he might as well commit suicide, but he did not wish to go without forgiving all his enemies. So at the last moment he removed the noose from his neck, saying to himself: "I never can or will forgive old Noah for letting the copperhead snakes get into the ark. They have killed two thousand dollars worth of my cattle."

☞ Joe and Bill Benton went to New Orleans with a flat-boat of corn. Joe wrote to his father, thus:

"Nu Orleans, Gune 5—Deer Dad, markets is dull corn is mighty lo and Bills dead

"Your affectionate sun J. B."

☞ Modern churches—bazaars for the better display of silks, satin and millinery; placed upon animated dummies. Pulpits—little shops wherein eccentricity learns notoriety and a princely income for doing everything but showing people the way to heaven.

☞ A thick-headed squire, being worsted by Sidney Smith in an argument, took his revenge by exclaiming, "if I had a son who was an idiot, by Jove, I'd make him a parson." "Very probably," replied Sidney, "but I see your father was of a different mind."

☞ Foote being once annoyed by a poor fiddler "straining harsh discords" under the window, sent him a shilling, with a request that he would play elsewhere, as one scraper at the door was sufficient.

IDLERS AND GRUMBLERS.—

Don't stand in your tracks doing nothing but grumble,
But start for a run if you meet with a stumble;
You had better be scoured by rubs in the dust;
Than to be in your idleness eaten by rust.

☞ There are few men, who, were they certain of death on their seventieth birthday, would think of preparation. To-morrow may be the gate of an eternity, and they go on in their folly.

NEW DRESS.—The Pittsburgh Daily Evening Chronicle appeared in an entire new dress on Saturday evening last. It boasts a circulation larger than any two of the two cent papers. As a newspaper it is one of the best in the country, and we are pleased to see this evidence of its prosperity.

WHIG NATIONAL CONVENTION.—A correspondent of the National Intelligencer recommends a National Convention of the Whigs of the United States on the 4th of July next, at Richmond, Baltimore or Philadelphia, for the purpose of nominating candidates for the offices of President and Vice President of the United States, or, if separate nominations be deemed inexpedient, for the purpose of selecting among the candidates already in the field such as may be most eligible to a majority of the Whig party.

CATTLE ON RAILROADS.—An important decision was made by the Supreme Court at Madison, Wis., on the 5th instant, in the case of Henry Stucken vs. the Milwaukee and Mississippi Railroad Company, from Crawford county, for killing cattle. The court sent back the case for a new trial, but decided that Railroad companies are not bound to fence against cattle, and that they are liable for gross negligence only in cases of injury to cattle wrongfully upon the track. Railroad companies are bound to use ordinary care merely.—This decision is in accordance with the recent decisions in other States.

☞ By reference to the proceedings of the Democratic County Convention it will be seen that the name of Hon. John Cresswell of Hollidaysburg was brought forward in connection with the nomination for Governor in 1860. It is with pleasure we notice this evidence of his party's high regard for him, and we believe the Gubernatorial Convention will have some difficulty in finding a better man for the office. With Calvin as the nominee on one side and Cresswell on the other, the people would be sure of having a good Governor, no matter which would come out ahead.

☞ Mr. Greely, in a letter from Salt Lake City, dated July 12th, estimates the total number of emigrants now on the plains and bound for California, at about thirty thousand persons, with teams of oxen, mules, horses and loose cattle, amounting at the start to little less than one hundred thousand head. Of these, more than one half (are or were) working oxen. The Emigration covers the great trail for an extent of more than seven hundred miles, or fully half the distance from the settlements of Kansas to those of California west of the Sierra Nevada.—The head of this magnificent column will enter the valley of the Sacramento early in August; its extreme rear will be straggling down the mountain slopes, sad, lank, and footsore, as late as the 1st of October.

☞ A law should be passed prohibiting the sale and manufacture of camphene and burning fluid. From a compilation of accidents from their use we learn that the damage has been great. Some four hundred persons have lost their lives by the use of those fluids, and over $1,000,000 of property has been destroyed. It has now arrived at a point when its aggregate is one of magnitude and horror, and it seems to us an evil which demands the interposition of law to protect the citizen from using a production which carries with it death and destruction. The evils arising from it are of a character which should enlist every philanthropist and friend of humanity in an effort to make it one of the prescribed and forbidden products of our country. We hope that an means may be devised to protect our people from its pernicious effects.

Col. L. W. Hall.

We copy the following complimentary notices of the nomination of our townsman Col. L. W. Hall, as the Peoples' candidate for State Senator in this district.—They will serve to show that the Col., although a young man, just entering upon public life, has already made his mark, and is known abroad as well as at home:

Mr. Hall is a lawyer, and a young man of distinguished ability, well fitted to adorn the honorable position for which he has been selected. His success is conceded by the candid of all parties in that district.—Harrisburg Tel.

We are gratified to hear of the unanimous nomination for the State Senate by the Peoples' party of the district composed of Blair, Cambria and Clearfield counties, of Col. Lewis W. Hall, of Altoona, a prominent and distinguished member of the Blair county Bar. If the people of the district know their interests, they will see to it that Col. Hall is sent to the Senate by a majority which will tell on the corrupt dynasty at Washington, and secure a Senator who will do honor to his constituents and himself.—Lancaster Union.

"No one can deny that those who are to make new laws, or modulate old laws, or repeal them, should understand what those old laws are, and know what the nature of law is, both in its abstract, and its practical workings. Mr. Hall possesses undoubted qualifications in this particular; he is, furthermore, a man of unblemished moral character, honest, and capable in every respect, fit to compete with the best ability the Democracy can bring into the field. In brief, we are satisfied that Mr. Hall is in every way deserving of the suffrages of the People, and that he will bear the Peoples' banner to certain and glorious victory.—Tyrone Star.

Mr. H., we may here remark, is a gentleman of fine attainments and ability, and quite able enough to do credit to the district and valuable service to the Commonwealth. He is a good public speaker, and industrious and energetic in whatever he undertakes, and as a Senator would be watchful and attentive to his duties, manfully standing up for the Peoples' cause against the bad policy and practices of the Free Trade, Molly Maguire and Lecompton Democracy. His nomination is well received in the county, and his prospects of a large majority quite flattering.—Hollidaysburg Register.

ALIVE AGAIN.—The Blairsville True American has been revived again. The editor indulges in several columns of explanations and apologies for the sudden demise of the paper, and promises to make further exposures of the means used to put him down. In our humble opinion, a paper the size of the True American never can be made a paying concern in that part of the country.

GODEY'S LADIES' BOOK.—The September number of this tip-top Magazine is on the Junior's better-half's table, and she (a good judge she is too,) thinks the Country does not patronize a better publication—the Tribune excepted. The present number, we think, is "superlatively good!" Subscribe for the Ladies' magazine immediately.

PETERSON'S MAGAZINE.—This, says the Senior's trowsers-mender, is the best Ladies' comforter on a dull day, which can be got up by the votaries of the "Art Preservative." The September number is on her table, and compares favorably with its predecessors. The difference of opinion between the Junior's and Senior's wives is only a matter of taste; for Peterson is good as good can be.

☞ Dan Rice.—A clergyman took Dan Rice in hand and made him promise to distribute tracts in Hartford. Democratic County Convention.

Pursuant to call, the Delegates from the several Wards, Boroughs and Townships of Blair county, assembled in County Convention, in the Court House, Hollidaysburg, on Wednesday, August 17th, 1859.

The Convention was temporarily organized by selecting Dr. J. P. THOMPSON as Chairman, and JOHN COX, Esq., as Secretary.

On motion, A. J. Crissman, Walter Graham, John Woods, E. B. Isett and S. T. Murray were appointed a committee to report officers for the permanent organization of the Convention.

On motion, the Convention adjourned till 1½ o'clock P. M.

The Convention met at 1½ o'clock.

The committee to select officers for the permanent organization of the Convention, reported the following, which were unanimously confirmed:—

President—WALTER GRAHAM.

Vice President—GEO. B. CRAMER, HENRY HARBISON.

Secretaries—M. C. Stehley, Ed. Patterson.

On motion the Convention proceeded to nominate a ticket for County officers. The following named gentlemen were duly nominated:—

Assembly.

WILLIAM L. NEFF, of Williamsburg.

Register and Recorder,

DANIEL D. WOODS, Tyrone Borough.

County Commissioner,

ROBERT C. GALBRAITH, Tyrone Township.

Director of the Poor,

CHRISTIAN KOON, Frankstown.

Auditor,

JOHN M. BURKET, North Woodberry.

County Surveyor,

WILLIAM McDONALD, Altoona.

On motion the nominations were unanimously confirmed.

Dr. A. J. Crissman offered the following resolution, which was adopted:—

Resolved, That Maj. Theo. Snyder, of North Woodberry township, is hereby declared to be the choice of Blair county for State Senator, and he is hereby duly authorized and empowered to select his own Conferees.

On motion, the Convention proceeded to elect a Representative Delegate to the next State Convention. Maj. J. R. Crawford having received a majority of the votes cast, was declared duly elected said delegate.

On motion, Col. John Woods, R. I. Horrell and E. B. Isett were selected as Senatorial Conferees to meet the Conferees from Cambria and Clearfield counties, to elect a Senatorial Delegate to represent the District in the next Democratic State Convention.

S. T. Murray offered the following resolutions, which were read and unanimously adopted:—

Resolved, That, as Democrats of Blair county, we will yield an ardent and hearty support to the ticket which is now presented to us, and that we will use every effort and make every endeavor to secure for it a triumphant election.

Resolved, That the Democracy of Blair county know no faction or dissention in their ranks—that, as a unit, they affirm their attachment to the never dying truths of Democracy, and declare their determination to adhere to its great principles.

Resolved, That the hightoned and liberal course of the Hon. John Cresswell, our late Senator, meets with our entire approbation, and that we unanimously present him to the people of Pennsylvania as eminently worthy of an election to the position of Governor of this State—feeling that his integrity of character, personal popularity and ability are unsurpassed.

On motion, the President of the Convention was authorized to appoint a County Committee for the coming year.

On motion, adjourned sine die.

AN IMPATIENT WIFE.—The Buffalo (N. Y.) Express says a woman named Louise Scrivens, the wife of a canal boat captain, getting tired last Saturday of lying idle in port, waiting for her liege lord and superior officer to finish up a spree in which he had been engaged for several days, while the boat was loaded and ready for a start, had him arrested and locked up, with the understanding that he should be released on the following Monday, and then, leaving $3 in the hands of an officer, to be given him when he was sobered and set free, to pay his fare to Rochester, where he could overtake her, she started eastward with the craft, assuming the command, and transacting all the business of clearance, &c.

DEATH FROM THE BITE OF A TURTLE.—The Middleboro' (Mass.) Gazette gives the particulars of a painful death of a boy in Plympton, in consequence of a bite on the finger from a turtle. The symptoms were the same as hydrophobia. Not long after the bite, the lad became feverish, and after the finger had been lanced black spots appeared on the other hand, and paroxysms followed, in which the sufferer would snap and bite at whatever came in his way, after the manner of a turtle.

THE BIGGEST RATTLESNAKE.—A rattlesnake was killed, lately, 20 miles west of Terre Haute 21 feet in length, 18 inches round in the largest part, and which had 111 rattles. This same snake, or one like it, was seen in the same locality thirty years ago. The monster was killed with a rifle bullet, and is undoubtedly the biggest rattlesnake on record.

A NIGHT OF CRIME.—The town of Preston, Connecticut, last Monday night, was the scene of a wholesale incendiarism, which is unparalleled in this country. It seems that a man named Chapman had quarrelled with and abused his wife in such a manner that she could not live with him, and returned to the house of her father, a farmer named Wheeler. A short time since he drove to the house of his father-in-law and stole away his son, a lad seven years of age, whom he ill-treated for several days, during which he was pursued. An officer finally overtook him at a place called Noank, took the boy away from him, and served on him a petition for a divorce, his wife having resolved upon such a step. On Monday night he returned from Noank in a perfect rage, not only against his wife and her family, but against the whole town for taking her part. At a late hour he commenced his fiendish career, and, as he passed along the road, he fired nine buildings, most of them barns, full of grain, wagons, farming tools, &c., which created a loss of many thousands of dollars to the different owners. At length the stealthy villian came to the house of Mr. Wheeler, his father-in-law, where the closing scene of this drama of devastation was enacted, and where he no doubt intended to murder the whole family. The Wheeler family were aroused by the son of one of their neighbors whose buildings had been fired, who came there for assistance. Before they could get ready to depart to the assistance of others they discovered their own out-buildings on fire, and while they were carrying water to extinguish the fire in the barn, one of the boys discovered Chapman at the corner of the house, attempting to set fire to some dry brush lying against the house. He immediately gave the alarm. A regular fight now ensued, and Chapman snapped a pistol twice at the head of Mr. Wheeler, but the weapon missed fire. The contest was finally ended by a son of Mr. Wheeler discharging a musket loaded with shot at Chapman; the latter fled. It was afterwards discovered that this spot proved fatal to the wretch, for when parties went out to scour the woods the next morning, his body was found near a spring, where he had gone to bathe his wounds. In his abdomen were found about one hundred shot wounds. A general feeling of relief followed, when it was known that the incendiary no longer lived to prosecute his fiendish revonge.

RAISED FROM THE DEAD.—A curious case occurred last week at Rome, in this county.—Mrs. Peters, wife of a German of that name, after a short illness, was supposed to have died. Her husband made immediate arrangements for her funeral, having procured a coffin in this city. On placing her body in the coffin a general perspiration was observed throughout the skin, which was reported to the husband, with the suggestion that the burial be deferred in the hope of re-animation. To this the husband objected, and had her interred the same day, (Saturday.) After the burial services were over some relatives of the supposed deceased, who reside in this city, arrived at Rome to attend the funeral, which had already taken place, and hearing of the circumstances caused the body, which then had been four hours in the grave, to be disinterred, when, to their surprise and joy, they found signs of life still remaining, —Restoratives being administered, Mrs. Peters gradually recovered, was taken by her friends to this city and is now well. We are informed that she refuses to again live with her husband. The circumstances connected with the affair are strange indeed, and should undergo investigation.—Columbus, (Ohio) Fact.

THE NEW MONSTER IRON STEAM RAM—which will be afloat and fitting for sea by June, 1860—has the following dimensions:—Length, 380 ft.; breadth, 58 feet: depth, 41 feet 6 inches; and her tonnage no less than 6,179 tons; weight of empty hull will be 5,700 tons; engines are to be of 1,250 horse power—their weight, with boilers, 960 tons. She will carry 950 tons of coal, and her armament, etc., will amount to 1,100 tons more. Thus her total weight at sea will be about 9,900 tons, which will be driven against her enemy's ship at the rate of sixteen miles an hour. All the decks are carried on wrought iron beames of the most powerful description, to which both the ribs and iron decks are bolted, while along the whole length of the vessel, from stem to stern, are immensely solid wrought iron beams, at intervals of five feet inside the ribs, which are again crossed by diagonal bands, tying the whole together in a perfect net work. The broadsides will mount 14 of the Armstrong 100 lb. guns, which, with two broadside guns on the upper deck, and two port guns forward and two aft, will give her a total armanent of 86 guns, each throwing a 100 lb. shot over a range of nearly sixty miles. Cost of the hull will be about £200,00; engines about £45,000 more, or £320,000 in all.

WALES.—A great revival in Wales, is described in some of the English newspapers. The clergy and ministers remain after the services to converse with crowds of inquirers. Numbers of public houses have been closed; eight in one small town. It is now spreading into North Wales and the religious interest is very intense; "no enthusiasm," writes a clergyman of the Established Church, "but a deep, profound, and awfully solemn impression prevails." In some districts notorious for blasphemy, an oath is now never heard; drunkards in thousands have become total abstainers; and, if conduct be a test of sincerity, we may hope most favorably of the religious movement. It is estimated that in two counties only, 9,000 persons within the last five months have been turned to God.

☞ The Rome Sentinel relates that a three year old girl accompanied her father upon a visit to her grand-parent in the country, where a blessing is invoked by the white-haired patriarch before each meal. The custom was one with which our little friend had not been made familiar at home, and of course on the first occasion she was silent with interest and curious watchfulness. But when the family gathered around the board the second time after the commencement of her visit, she was prepared for the preliminay religious ceremony, and observing that her father did not seem duly conscious of the approaching solemnity, she called him to order, by saying with stern gravity, "Be still, papa—grandpapa's going to talk to his plate pretty soon!"

I. O. O. F.—Defaulting Grand Master.—Geo. Loving, Grand Master of the Order in England, recently absconded with $20,000 of the funds. A few days since a person from Toronto, named Smith, knowing Loving by sight, met him at Clifton on the Canada side of the Falls. He had an interview with him, and telling him he was in pecuniary difficulties, promised to keep the matter secret, provided he was furnished with a few hundred dollars.—They employed a livery stable keeper to take them to some place, to whom he made known these facts, but after a private interview with Loving, Smith denied he was the person he suspected. Next day both parties disappeared, and have not been seen since.

THE CROUP.—The Journal of Health says:—"When a child is taken with croup instantly apply cold water—ice water, if possible—suddenly and freely to the neck and chest with a sponge. The breathing will almost instantly be relieved. Soon as possible let the sufferer drink as much as it can; then wipe it dry, cover it warm, and soon a quiet slumber will relieve all anxiety." A friend of ours who has repeatedly tried this remedy informs us that it never failed to afford almost instant relief.

Broadcloth the Enemy of Health.

Professor Hamilton, in an able address on hygiene to the graduates of Buffalo Medical College, denounces Broadcloth as an enemy to exercise, and therefore to health. His remarks are pointed and sensible. He says:—"American gentlemen have adopted as a national costume, broadcloth—a thin, tight-fitting black suit of broadcloth. To foreigners, we seem always to be in mourning; we travel in black, we write in black, we work in black. The priest, the lawyer, the doctor, the literary man, the mechanic, and even the day laborer, choose always the same unvarying, monotonous black broadcloth; a style and material which never ought to have been adopted out of the drawing-room or the pulpit; because it is a feeble and expensive fabric; because it is at the North no suitable protection against the cold, nor is it indeed any more suitable at the South. It is too thin to be warm in the winter, and too black to be cool in the summer, but especially do we object to it because the wearer is always afraid of soiling it by exposure. Young gentlemen will not play ball, or pitch quoits, or wrestle and tumble, or any other similar thing, least their broadcloth should be offended. They will not go out into the storm, because the broadcloth will lose its lustre if the rain falls upon it; they will not run because they have no confidence in the strength of the broadcloth; they dare not mount a horse, or leap a fence, because broadcloth as everybody knows is so faithless. So these young men, and these older men, merchants, mechanics, and all, learn to walk, talk and think soberly and carefully; they seldom venture to laugh to the full extent of their sides."

Read this all Through.

The terrible ravages which tobacco is making on the bodies and minds of the young, seems to be attracting the attention of medical men in various parts of the world. In a pamphlet just issued by Dr. Seymour, of London, on private Lunatic Asylums, and the cause of insanity of late years, the Doctor denounces with emphasis as one of the producing causes the immoderate smoking indulged in by boys and young men at the universities and "larger schools, now called colleges." The Doctor's remarks are as applicable to the youths of this country as those of Europe. No one conversant with disease can doubt that excessive smoking, especially in the case of young people, must be highly injurious to both mind and body. Its effect is to depress the circulation; the heart becomes weak, irregular in its action, and the pulse is scarcely to be felt. The victim becomes irresolute and nervous, his appetite fails, and his mind fills with imaginary evils. This may continue for years, but at length the smoker dies off suddenly; then examination has shown that the muscular structure of the heart is imperfect in its action; the left side is thin, and in some cases, in which sudden death has occurred, there has been found little more than a strip of muscular fibre left on that side.

LIBERTY IN PARIS.—The spy system in Paris, it is said, is more annoying at the present time than it has been since Louis Napoleon's reign. These pleasant companions are ubiquitious.—You get into a rail-car or an omnibus, the conductors are spies; a courier takes a letter to the post for you, and the Goverument knows who you are, and to whom you are writing. You take a season ticket on the Railroad, the police must know where you live, in city and country, what you are doing and who you are in company with. The Government takes charge of your whole being, what you do and suffer, what you eat and drink, what you hear and see, what you read, and what is acted and sung before you; it takes away your spontaneity, and gives you in return widened streets and a beautiful city, battles and renown, at five francs—for this is the cost of the Italian campaign to Frenchmen per head."

NOT SATISFIED.—Last week a hard working sailor returned to Milwaukee, after a five years absence in California, with but little more cash than he took away with him. He left a wife and two children when he went away, and the first thing on his arrival was to seek out his family. He found them in the Third Ward, and after kissing his wife, saw with astonishment that his children, like sheep in the wheat, had doubled in the five years, as in the place of two, there were now four, and one quite small. He looked at his wife. He then looked at his babies. Then at his wife who stood silently by. Back and forth, from one to the other for full five minutes he gazed, then broke out with: "Well, Mary, for a small woman, without help, you've raised h—l amazingly!"

EXPERIMENTING ON RATTLESNAKES.—Several rattlesakes brought by Prof. Christy from the South have been used at the Ohio Medical College in a series of experiments to ascertain an antidote for the poison. A few days since a dog was introduced to the snakes' cage, and was immediately bitten. Prof. Foote administered to him brandy containing five drachms bromine, four grains of iodide of patassium, and two grains of corrosive sublimate. He recovered in a short time. Another dog was suffered to be bitten on the 8th ult., and the bromine, iodide of potassium and corrosive sublimate administered alone. An hour after he seemed to be recovering slowly. The next experiment will be to administer brandy alone, which is claimed to be an effectual remedy.

A STRONG BOX.—The impossibility of rendering a strong box altogether safe against theft by means of skeleton keys, has led a locksmith in Frankfort-on-the-Maine to hit upon the ingenious idea of constructing a strong box without any keyhole at all, and which even the owner himself cannot open. Why, what's the use of such a box, you would ask? But, observe, inside is a clockwork, the hand of which the owner places at the hour and minute when he again wants access to the box. The clockwork begins to move as soon as the lid is shut, and opens the lock from the inside at the moment which the hand indicates. Time, dependent upon the owner, is the key to the lock, a key which can neither be stolen from him nor imitated.

WHAT AMERICAN MISSIONARIES ARE DOING.—A correspondent of the London Daily News writes from Mount Lebanon: "Education in these mountains is making considerable progress, owing to the energy and activity of the American missionaries. They have schools in nearly every district in Lebanon, and have done more for the cause among these mountaineers, during the twenty years they have been in the country, than all other sects—Roman Catholic, Greek, Maronite, or Greek Catholic—with all their wealthy convents, and possessing, as they do, fully one-third of the land of Lebanon, have done in the last three centuries.

MURDER IN CRAWFORD COUNTY.—From the Meadville Journal we learn that another murder was committed in Rome township, last Thursday. James and Isaac Coil were out lodging, having a bottle of whiskey, when Isaac became intoxicated. He got quarrelsome and an altercation took place between him and James, when seizing a handspike he knocked the latter down, who in falling struck his head against a log, where he was found dead.

☞ Hon. Andrew Curtin, of Centre county, is earnestly pressed by his political friends for the nomination by the People's party for Governor of Pennsylvania. He is a very able and accomplished citizen.

Conflict with a Catamount.

The Franklin (La.), Banner gives in detail an account of a terrible conflict with a Catamount and some negroes on the plantation of Mr. Thomas S. Bisland, of St. Mary. The animal having pursued the negroes into the house, calmly seated himself on the front piazza, scrutinizing some dozen or more negroes who were arriving from the sugar house. The Banner concludes the story as follows:—"Satisfied with the scrutiny, he entered the parlor or sitting room and took formal possession, and when the door was opened by a negroe man he flew at him and seized him by the throat. The negroe was a powerful man, and after being severely lacerated got him under his feet, when four balls were fired into his head from a revolver in the hand of a bystander. The overseer, who had now reached the spot, deeming him dead, ordered the negro to remove his feet, when, to the amazement of all present, he sprang upon a third negro, but was knocked off by a blow from a club, and finally killed with a load of buckshot from a gun, opportunely brought by the overseer."

☞ According to a correspondent of a Canada paper, M. Blondin will walk again across the Niagara on Wednesday next, when he announces his intention of appearing in the character of the Liberian slave, chained from head to foot. He will also, when recrossing, carry with him a stove and cooking utensils, and when in the middle of the rope, will cook omelets for the passengers of the Maid of the Mist. A Rochester journal says that he realized $1,500 from his last exhibition at Niagara, and that he has probably made $5,000 this season in rope-walking over the great river.

MICE AND RATS.—Mr. Glenny says: Mice and rats are very easily destroyed if we set about it in earnest. Get live plaster-of-paris and flour, mix them dry in equal quantities, lay it in dry places, and sprinkle a little sugar amongst it.—Both rats and mice eat ravenously, the plaster sets firm, after it is moistened, becomes a lump inside them, and kills to a certainty.

TRAVELING.—Henry Ward Beecher says "Traveling is very much like eating crabs. You have much shell, many claws and little meat. But to read of travels is to have your crabs served up to you without trouble of opening or extracting."

LOCAL ITEMS.

BIRMINGHAM CIRCUIT CAMP-MEETING.—We attended this Camp-meeting now in progress, near Blair Furnace, on Sunday morning last.—On that morning an Excursion Train, numbering 18 cars, conveyed between 800 and 1,000 persons, from Hollidaysburg and this place, to the ground. There are only some 16 or 18 tents erected, and the site selected, as well as the road to get to it, is about as rough as could well have been found, at least, this was the general remark. In the morning, the services were conducted by Rev. Barnhart, of Williamsburg Circuit, who delivered an excellent discourse on the fall and repentance of Peter. In the afternoon Rev. J. H. C. Dosh, of Hollidaysburg, discoursed on the certainty of a resurrection and judgment, and was followed by Rev. Creighton, of this place, in a powerful exhortation. We could not stay to witness the effect of these appeals to the unconverted, but learn that they were followed with good results. Excellent order was observed in and about the camp ground during our stay, although we were sorry to hear that liquor was to be had at a house in the vicinity; but a very few persons gave evidence of having indulged a little.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.—A Teacher's Institute will be held in Williamsburg, commencing on Monday, August 29th, 1859, to continue one week. Profs. F. A. and T. Allen, and probably Prof. Stoddard, will be present to assist in the exercises.

Owing to unavoidable circumstances, the undersigned was unable to give notice sooner, but hopes that every teacher will make an effort to be present.

Every male teacher will be well entertained, at good Hotels, for fifty cents per day. Female teachers will be provided for, at private houses, free of charge.

Williamsburg can be reached by stage, from Hollidaysburg and Spruce Creek, at moderate charges.

Hollidaysburg, Aug. 19, 1859.

CHURCH REOPENED.—The Lutheran church, which has been closed for the last four weeks, for the purpose of making repairs and improvements, will be reopened on next Sabbath the 28th of August at 10½ o'clock. The pulpit, wainscotting, window-facing, and other parts of the internal wood work, have been painted over; and the walls and ceiling, which had long been darkened with smoke, have now been adorned with a beautiful coat of fresco. Those members and friends of the church, who so generously aided in liquidating the remaining debt a few months ago, and now, again in making these improvements, will doubtless realize an ample remuneration for their sacrifices in the increased attractions and comforts of this place of worship.

ELDERBERRY WINE.—As the season for making Elderberry Wine is close at hand, we give the following recipe for making it: The berries when ripe, are first picked by the stems, then stripped with the hand, or trimed close with shears. Next they are smashed fine, which can be done by means of a stick in the form of a pestle. Let them remain until the next day, when the juice is pressed out slowly in a cheese press, or any other convenient way. Next boil the juice "twenty minutes;" skim it, and add four pounds of white sugar to a gallon. When milk warm add a small piece of white bread toast that has been dipped in yeast. Let it stand three days, remove the crust, and the wine is ready for bottling. Age improves it.

APPLE PUDDING.—Remove the cores from a dozen apples without breaking the rind; stand the apples, side by side, in a well greased shallow pan, and put into each apple a teaspoonful of sugar, a small piece of butter, and a few grains of ground cinnamon. Having made a batter of egg, milk and flour, pour it over the fruit until the pan is half filled; bake it in a quick oven, and eat with a sauce of cold cream. The mealy pulp of the apples bursting through the browned rind, the glistening particles of sugar wherever the pudding looks sweetest, embedded in a yellow, foamy looking custard, is very pretty even to the eye; but, how infinitely better to the taste, let every housekeeper try and prove.

OUR T. PIC NIC.—We are sorry that we could not be on hand to participate in the festivities on the occasion of the above pic nic, which came off on Thursday last, as we have been informed it was one of the most pleasant affairs gotten up in this section. The "good things" provided by the ladies far exceeded the wants of the company, and we are pleased to state that a portion of that which was left over was carefully packed into a basket, by some of the thoughtful and charitable, and handed to a person who stood in need of it—a fit conclusion to the pleasures of the day.

LADIES' FAIR.—Our absence from home on Thursday evening last prevented our being present at the Supper given by the Ladies of St. Lukes' Church, but we understand that it was one of the best ever served up in the place, there being a profusion of everything which could please the eye or tickle the palate of the most fastidious specimen. The concert on Friday evening is said to have been a grand affair and was well attended. Almost every article exhibited at the Fair was sold, and we are pleased to know that quite a handsome sum has been realized for the church thereby.

CHANGE.—The day fixed upon for the examination of teachers for Logan township school district has been changed from Tuesday, August 30th, to Thursday September 8th. This change was rendered necessary from the fact that the Primary Teachers' Institute commences at Williamsburg on the 29th inst.

☞ The Blair County Whig appeared in a new dress, last week, but really, as it styles a new dress, last week, but really, as we not been previously informed that it was in type in a new dress, we would not have noticed it—the improvement being so slight.

NON-CORROSIVE WRITING FLUID.—H. Fettinger has just received a supply of the fluid, manufactured by J. B. D. Clark, of Pittsburgh, for which the following properties are claimed: 1st. That it will not corrode on steel or metalic pen, thus preserving the smoothness of the point. 2d. That the dried ink which remains on the pen assimilates with the fluid, and is no impediment to the flow. 3d. The flow is not exceeded by any fluid in existence. 4th. Its destruction is less liable than any other, after being applied to paper. 5th. The color is blue black which is preferable to dead black. 6th. The price is less than for ordinary inks.

TEACHERS APPOINTED.—The School Directors of Altoona School District have made the following selection of teachers for the ensuing term:—

East Ward—1st Grade—		Mr. A. H. Sembower.
" "	2d "	Miss P. M. McCrum.
" "	Primary—	Mr. E. Elder, Principal.
" "	"	Miss Ella J. Humes, Asst.
West Ward—1st Grade—		Mr. J. G. Counsman.
" "	2d "	Miss E. J. McCormick.
" "	Primary—	Mr. W. Kinsloe, Prin'l.
" "	"	Miss N. Galbraith, Asst.

INSURANCE.—We would direct the attention of our readers to the advertisement of the Pennsylvania Insurance Company, of Pittsburg, in another column, from which it will be seen that Wm. R. Boyers, Esq, has been appointed agent for this place. This company is considered one of the most reliable institutions of the kind in the State, and we know that the agent in this place is one of the most gentlemanly and accommodating. All particulars and necessary information given by applying to the agent at J. M. Cherry's office.

SERVICES IN THE PROT. EPISCOPAL CHURCH.—Through neglect on our part, the services in St. Luke's Church, in this place, have been published erroneously on our first page for some weeks past. Divine service is now held in the church every Sunday at 10½ o'clock A. M., and 7½ o'clock P. M., and also every Wednesday evening at 7½ o'clock. Sunday School 9½ A. M.

NOTICE PARTICULAR.—The gentleman who answered to the name of Mr. Hesser and received a $10 bill from the subscriber, in front of the Post Office, a few days since is requested to return the money to the subscriber at once and save further trouble, as he is known.

LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.

HOLLIDAYSBURG, August 23d, 1859.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Local items of general interest to your readers are very scarce here, at the present time. We will, however, endeavor to give a few which we trust will prove of some interest to the readers of your paper.

On Saturday last, a very pleasant pic-nic came off in the "Loop," some five miles from this place. It was given by the Union Sabbath School of that section of the country. The Hollidaysburg Fenoibles, under the command of Lieut. John R. McFarlane, were present by invitation. The scholars of the school were accompanied by their parents and many of their friends. Addresses were delivered by Revs. Junkin and Knight. The children were treated to an abundance of "good things," which had been prepared for them. On the whole, the day was spent in the most pleasant and agreeable manner, and all who were present came away fully satisfied that they had enjoyed themselves.

On Saturday last the examination of Teachers for the schools of this place was held. The Board of Directors have selected the following persons as the teachers of the different schools, which will open on the 1st Monday of September:—

Boy's High School—		Prof. John Miller.
Male School No. 3—		H. B. Whittington.
" "	"	2—E. C. Dunmire.
" "	"	1—John Mitchell.
Female "	"	3—Miss Philandra Hart.
" "	"	2— " Jane Horrell.
" "	"	1— " Mary J. Williams.

The Welsh Miners' Club, assisted by Mrs. Brunker, will give a concert in the Court House, on Thursday evening. The programme consists of a number of choice glees, duetts, songs, &c. They will no doubt render entire satisfaction.

We understand that the Rev. David J. Yerkes, of Pittsburg, will deliver a lecture before the Washingtonian Society of this place, on Tuesday evening the 29th inst. He is well-known in this community, having resided here for some years, and the mere announcement of his name will insure a full house. He is one of the ablest and most eloquent speakers in this section of the State.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

☞ Physicians are generally loth to speak a word in praise of what are called "patent medicines." Indeed, it is an article in the code of medical ethics, that a physician who sanctions the use of such remedies cannot be considered a member of the National Association. But there are exceptions to the most stringent rules, and many of the disciples of Esculapius have actually been compelled, by the force of facts, to recommend the use of DR. J. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, for those diseases which are particularly prevalent during the summer and fall.—They have ascertained that there are no remedies in the pharmacopia which can compare with this wonderful compound for derangement of the system. Thousands of families residing along the low grounds of the Western and Southern rivers, are now convinced that they have found a medicine peculiarly adapted for their ailments, while in other portions of the country, during the summer months, the demand for the article is equally large.

Sold by druggists and dealers generally.

DR. HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS,

AND

DR. HOOFLAND'S BALSAMIC CORDIAL,

The great standard medicines of the present age, have acquired their great popularity only through years of trial. Unbounded satisfaction is rendered by them in all cases; and the people have pronounced them worthy.

Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Jaundice, Debility of the Nervous System, Diseases of the Kidneys, and all diseases arising from a disordered liver or weakness of the stomach and digestive organs, are speedily and permanently cured by the GERMAN BITTERS.

The Balsamic Cordial has acquired a reputation surpassing that of any similar preparation extant. It will cure, WITHOUT FAIL, the most severe and long-standing

Cough, Cold, or Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Influenza, Croup, Pneumonia, Incipient Consumption, and has performed the most astonishing cures ever known of Confirmed Consumption.

A few doses will also at once check and cure the most severe Diarrhœa proceeding from COLD IN THE BOWELS.

These medicines are prepared by Dr. C. M. JACKSON & Co., No. 418 Arch Street, Philadelphia, Pa., and are sold by druggists and dealers in medicines everywhere, at 75 cents per bottle. The signature of C. M. JACKSON will be on the outside wrapper of each bottle.

Dalley's Magical Pain Extractor.

In all diseases inflammation more or less predominates—now to allay inflammation strikes at the root of disease—hence an immediate cure.

DALLEY'S MAGICAL PAIN EXTRACTOR, and nothing else, will allay inflammation at once, and make a certain cure.

DALLEY'S MAGICAL PAIN EXTRACTOR will cure the following among a great catalogue of diseases: Burns, Scalds, Cuts, Chafes, Sore Nipples, Corns, Bunions, Bruises, Sprains, Bites, Poison, Chilblains, Bites, Scrofula, Ulcers, Fever Sores, Felons, Ear Ache, Piles, Sore Eyes, Gout, Swellings, Rheumatism, Scald Head, Salt Rheum, Baldness, Erysipelas, Ringworm, Barbers' Itch, Small Pox, Measles, Rash, &c., &c.

To some it may appear incredulous that so many diseases should be reached by one article; such an idea will vanish when reflection points to the fact, that the salve is a combination of ingredients, each and every one applying a perfect antidote to its opposite disorder.

DALLEY'S MAGICAL PAIN EXTRACTOR In its effects is magical, because the time is so short between disease and a permanent cure; and it is an extractor, as it draws all disease out of the affected part, leaving nature as perfect as before the injury. It is scarcely necessary to say that no house, work-shop, or manufactory should be one moment without it.

No Pain Extractor is genuine unless the box has upon it a steel plate engraving, with the name of Henry Dalley, Manufacturer.

Sold by G. W. Kessler, Altoona; George A. Jacobs, Hollidaysburg; and by all the Druggists and patent medicine dealers throughout the United States and Canadas.

Dr. Seth S. Hance:—I was in Baltimore in April, 1854, and from a paper I received of yours was induced to buy a box of your Pills, recommended as a sovereign cure for the Epileptic Fits At that time one of my servants had been afflicted with fits about twelve years. When reaching home, I commenced with the Pills according to directions. I do not think she has had one since. My wife, though, is somewhat induced to believe she may have had one only. Enclosed you will find five dollars, for which you will please forward me two boxes. I suppose you can forward them by mail. Your compliance will oblige me. Yours respectfully. M. P. SLEDGE.

Dr. Hance's Epileptic Pills are also a sovereign remedy for every modification of nervous disease. The nervous sufferer, whether tormented by the acute, physical agony of neuralgia, tic doloreaux, or ordinary headache, afflicted with vague terrors, weakened by periodical fits, threatened with paralysis, borne down and dispirited by that terrible lassitude which proceeds from a lack of nervous energy, or experiencing any other pain or disability arising from the unnatural condition of the wonderful machinery which connects every member with the source of sensation, motion and thought—derives immediate benefit from the use of those pills, which at once calms, invigorates, and regulates the shatterel nervous organization.

Sent to any part of the country by mail, free of postage. Address Seth S. Hance, 108 Baltimore street, Baltimore, Md. Price, one box, $3; two do.; $5; twelve do., $24.

Diseases of the Liver.

When the celebrated Dr. Rush declared that drunkenness was a disease, he enunciated a truth which the experience and observation of medical men is every day confirming. The many apparently insane excesses of those who indulge in the use of spirituous liquors, may be thus accounted for. The true cause of conduct, which is taken for infatuation, is very frequently a diseased state of the Liver. No organ in the human system, when deranged, produces a more frightful catalogue of diseases. And if, instead of applying remedies to the manifestations of disease, as is too often the case, physicians would prescribe with a view to the original cause, fewer deaths would result from diseases induced by a deranged state of the Liver. Three-fourths of the diseases enumerated under the head of Consumption, have their seat in a diseased Liver. Dr. M'Lane's celebrated Liver Pills, prepared by Fleming Bros., are a certain cure.

☞ Purchasers will be careful to ask for DR. M'LANE'S CELEBRATED VERMIFUGE, manufactured by FLEMING BROS. of Pittsburgh, Pa. All other Vermifuges in comparison are worthless. Dr. M'Lane's genuine Vermifuge, also his celebrated Liver Pills, can now be had at all respectable drug stores. None genuine unless the signature of FLEMING BROS.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

IT is a fact that, at some period, every member of the human family is subject to disease or disturbance of the bodily functions; but, with the aid of a good tonic and the exercise of plain common sense, they may be able so to regulate the system as to secure permanent health. In order to accomplish this desired object, the true course to pursue is certainly that which will produce a natural state of things at the least hazard of vital strength and life. For this purpose, Dr. Hostetter has introduced to this country a preparation bearing his name, which is not a new medicine, but one that has been tried for years, giving satisfaction to all who have used it. The Bitters operate powerfully upon the stomach, bowels, and liver, restoring them to a healthy and vigorous action, and thus, by the simple process of strengthening nature, enable the system to triumph over disease.

For the cure of Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Nausea, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, or any Bilious Complaints, arising from a morbid inaction of the Stomach or Bowels, producing Cramps, Dysentery, Colic, Cholera Morbus, &c., these Bitters have no equal.

Diarrhœa, dysentery or flux, so generally contracted by new settlers, and caused principally by the change of water and diet, will be speedily regulated by a brief use of this preparation. Dyspepsia, a disease which is probably more prevalent, in all its various forms, than any other, and the cause of which may always be attributed to derangements of the digestive organs, can be cured without fail by using HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, as per directions on the bottle. For this disease every physician will recommend Bitters of some kind; then why not use an article known to be infallible? All nations have their Bitters, as a preventive of disease and strengthener of the system in general; and among them all there is not to be found a more healthy people than the Germans, from whom this preparation emanated, based upon scientific experiments which have tended to prove the value of this great preparation in the scale of medical science.

FEVER AND AGUE.—This trying and provoking disease, which fixes its relentless grasp on the body of man, reducing him to a mere shadow in a short time, and rendering him physically and mentally useless, can be driven from the body by the use of HOSTETTER'S RENOWNED BITTERS. Further, none of the above-stated diseases can be contracted, even in exposed situations, if the Bitters are used as per directions. And as they neither create nausea nor offend the palate, and render unnecessary any change of diet or interruption of ordinary pursuits, but promote sound sleep and healthy digestion, the complaint is removed as speedily as is consistent with the production of a thorough and permanent cure.

For Persons in Advanced Years, who are suffering from an enfeebled constitution and infirm body, these Bitters are invaluable as a restorative of strength and vigor, and need only be tried to be appreciated. And to a mother while nursing these Bitters are indispensable, especially where the mother's nourishment is inadequate to the demands of the child, consequently her strength must yield, and here it is where a good tonic, such as Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, is needed to impart temporary strength and vigor to the system. Ladies should by all means try this remedy for all cases of debility, and, before so doing, should ask their physician, who, if he is acquainted with the virtue of the Bitters, will recommend their use in all cases of weakness.

CAUTION.—We caution the public against using any of the many imitations or counterfeits, but ask for HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS, and see that each bottle has the words "Dr. J. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters" blown on the side of the bottle, and stamped on the metallic cap covering the cork, and observe that our autograph signature is on the label.

DR. BOERHAAVE'S HOLLAND BITTERS

THE CELEBRATED HOLLAND REMEDY FOR

DYSPEPSIA,

DISEASE OF THE KIDNEYS,

LIVER COMPLAINT,

WEAKNESS OF ANY KIND

FEVER AND AGUE,

And the various affections consequent upon a disordered

STOMACH OR LIVER,

Such as Indigestion, Acidity of the Stomach, Colicky Pains, Heartburn, Loss of Appetite, Despondency, Costiveness, Blind and Bleeding Piles. In all Nervous, Rheumatic and Neuralgic Affections, it has in numerous instances proved highly beneficial, and in others effected a decided cure.

This is a purely vegetable compound, prepared on strictly scientific principles, after the manner of the celebrated Holland Professor, Boerhave: Because of its great success in the most of the European States, its introduction into the United States was intended more especially for those of our fatherland scattered here and there over the face of this mighty country. Meeting with great success among them, I now offer it to the American public, knowing that its truly wonderful medical virtues must be acknowledged.

It is particularly recommended to those persons whose constitutions may have been impaired by the continuous use of ardent spirits, or other forms of dissipation. Generally instantaneous in effect, it finds its way directly to the seat of life, thrilling and quickening every nerve, raising up the drooping spirit, and, in fact, infusing new blood and vigor into the system.

CAUTION.—The great popularity of this delightful tonic has induced many imitations, which the public should guard against purchasing. Be sure and ask to buy anything else until you have given Boerhave's Holland Bitters a fair trial. One bottle will convince you how infinitely superior it is to all these imitations.

DR. COGGSWELL'S NEW MEDICAL SALT.

Read the following Certificate in the Efficacy of this Medicine by a Physician of Long Standing.

"For the last twelve years I have been more or less troubled with Inflammatory Rheumatism, commencing early in the Spring, and lasting until cold weather set in, when I would be relieved for a while, only to be attacked again in the Spring. All my joints would swell and be very sore, attended with the most acute pain. My feet, shoulders, arms, and hands troubled me most, so much so that I could scarcely walk, and almost always required assistance in dressing. During this time I would try everything I could hear of, in the hope of finding a cure. I also tried several physicians, but nothing seemed to help me the least in the world. About two and a half years ago I was attacked as usual, and as usual tried everything to get rid of it, but to no purpose. I kept growing worse, and finally had to give up and stay in the house, where I was confined about four weeks. This time my feet swelled, and were so sore that I could not stand on them or get on my boots, and my hands swelled to twice their usual size. In fact I was, to all appearances and belief, totally used up. About this time my parents, who reside in Maine, sent for me to come home. I went and after my arrival I commenced trying another remedy, hoping to be cured, but resulting the same as all others. For weeks I had not been able to dress myself or to raise my hand to my head, and suffering the most excruciating pain all the time. One day my father came in with a paper in which was advertised Dr. Coggswell's MEDICAL SALT, for Inflammatory Diseases only, and wanted me to read and see what I thought of it. I read and laughed at it, pronounced it a humbug, and told him that I had been humbugged enough. He kept urging me, and at last said I could but try it, and if I would write to Dr. C., giving him a description of my disease, he would pay the expense. Of course I could not refuse such an offer and sent for one box. It came in due season, but my faith was not increased, and I laughed at the idea of so small a box doing me any good, and told my wife that I believed Dr. C. and his Salt, both humbugs.—However, I commenced using it and the result was perfectly astonishing. I could hardly realize it myself. I slept soundly all night, which I had not done for a long time, and when I awoke in the morning, strange as it may seem, I was entirely free from pain. I had then taken but one dose, and bathed freely before going to bed. That morning I felt so well that I hardly knew how to contain myself, and went down stairs and told the folks how well I felt, and from that day to this I have not suffered one moment's pain or had an attack of my once dreaded enemy, Rheumatism. I am perfectly well and hearty, and wherever I have a chance I recommend it. A friend of mine, residing in Brooklyn, is now trying it for a bad case of neuralgic rheumatism, and so far it is working admirably.—This is a long story, but I have told all the facts, which I can bring witnesses to substantiate if necessary; and will again say that in the MEDICAL SALT, a sure cure may be found for all inflammatory diseases, and would urge all who are afflicted to give it a trial. GEO. H. DUNCAN,
No. 117 Wall Street, New York.

When it is remembered that the MEDICAL SALT is as efficacious in all other Inflammatory diseases as in Rheumatism, (see descriptive circulars) it will at once be seen that it is a most valuable remedy. Surely those thus afflicted will find in their own condition and in the above statements, enough to induce them to give the MEDICAL SALT a trial.

Price $1,00; Chronic packages, $2,50.

HOME TESTIMONY.

[From the Lowistown Aurora.]

I have been afflicted for ten years with Chronic Diarrhœa, and have received more benefit from Du Vall's Galvanic Oil than any other medicine I ever used. ALEX. McKEE.

Oliver township, Mifflin county, Pa.

This is to certify that I used Du Vall's Galvanic Oil in my family in some of the diseases for which it is recommended and found to act almost spontaneously. I recommend it to all who suffer from pain. A. M. INGRAM.

Sept. 2, '58—1y. Decatur township, Mifflin co., Pa.

A CARD.—Hear what Mrs. Vaughn of Duncansville says:—I have used the Galvanic Oil prepared by J. D. Stoneroad, Lewistown, Pa., for a very painful disease myself and recommend it to others, and in every case found it to be one of the very best medicines for sore and painful diseases. Relieves all pain in a few minutes. Every family should have it in the house.

NEW AGRICULTURAL SETTLEMENT.—To all wanting Farms, a rare opportunity in a delightful and healthy climate 25 miles Southeast of Philadelphia, on the Camden and Atlantic Railroad New Jersey.

An old estate consisting of several thousands of acres of productive soil has been divided into Farms of various sizes to suit the purchaser. A population of some Fifteen Hundred, from various parts of the Middle States and New England have settled there the past year, improved their places, and raised excellent crops. The price of the land is at the low sum of from $15 to $20 per acre, the soil is of the best quality for the production of Wheat, Clover, Corn, Peaches, Grapes and Vegetables. IT IS CONSIDERED THE BEST FRUIT SOIL IN THE UNION. The place is perfectly secure from frosts—the destructive enemy of the farmer. Crops of grain, grass and fruit are now growing and can be seen. By examining the place itself, a correct judgment can be formed of the productiveness of the land. The terms are made easy to secure the rapid improvement of the land, which is only sold for actual improvement. The result has been, that within the past year, some three hundred houses have been erected, two mills, one steam, four stores, some forty vinyards and Peach orchards, planted, and a large number of other improvements, making it a desirable and active place of business.

THE MARKET,

as the reader may perceive from its location, is the BEST IN THE UNION.

Produce bringing double the price than in locations away from the city, and more than double the price than the West. It is known that the earliest and best fruits and vegetables in this latitude come from New Jersey, and are annually exported to the extent of millions.

In locating here, the settler has many advantages. He is within a few hours ride of the great cities of New England and Middle States, he is near his old friends and associations, he is in a settled country where every improvement of comfort and civilization is at hand. He can buy every article he wants at the cheapest price, and sell his produce for the highest, (in the West this is reversed,) he has schools for his children, divine service, and will enjoy an open winter, and delightful climate, where fevers are utterly unknown. The result of the change upon those from the north, has generally been to restore them to an excellent state of health.

In the way of building and improving, lumber can be obtained at the millsat the rate of $10 to $15 per thousand. Bricks from the brick yard opened in the place, every article can be procured in the place, good carpenters are at hand, and there is no place in the Union where buildings and improvements can be made cheaper.

The reader will at once be struck with the advantages there presented, and ask himself why the property has not been taken up before. The reason is, it was never thrown in the market; and unless these statements were correct no one would be invited to examine the land before purchasing. This all are expected to do. They will see land under cultivation, such is the extent of the settlement that they will no doubt, meet persons, from their own neighborhood; they will witness the improvements and can judge the character of the population. If they come with a view to settle, they should come prepared to stay a day or two and be ready to purchase, as locations cannot be held on refusal.

There are two daily trains to Philadelphia, and to all settlers who improve, the Railroad Company gives a Free Ticket for six months, and a half-price Ticket for three years.

THE TOWN OF HAMMONTON.

In connection with the agricultural settlement, a new and thriving town has naturally arisen, which presents inducements for any kind of business, particularly stores and manufactories. The Shoe business could be carried on in this place and market to good advantage, also cotton business, and manufactories of agricultural implements or Foundries for casting small articles. The improvement has been so rapid as to insure a constant and permanent increase of business. Town lots of a good size, we do not will small ones, as it would effect the improvement of the place, can be had at from $100 and upwards.

The Hammonton Farmer, a monthly literary and agricultural sheet, containing full information of Hammonton, can be obtained at 25 cents per annum.

The indisputable—warrantee deeds given, clear of all incumbrance when money is paid. Route to the land, leave Vine street wharf, Philadelphia for Hammonton by Railroad, at 7½ A. M., or 4½ P. M. Fare 90 cents. When there inquire for Mr. Byrnes. Boarding conveniences on hand. Parties had better stop with Mr. Byrnes, a principal, until they have decided as to purchasing, as he will show them over the land in his carriage, free of expense. Letters and applications can be addressed to Landis & Byrnes, Hammonton P. O., Atlantic Co., New Jersey, or S. B. Coughlin, 202 South Fifth Street, Philadelphia.—Maps and information cheerfully furnished.

SUFFERING HUMANITY, READ THIS.—The undersigned takes this method of informing the public generally that there is no medicine now offered to the public that is equal to DU VALL'S GALVANIC OIL in relieving suffering humanity.

I was an observer of its effects on a friend of mine, who suffered almost everything from a neuralgic affection which resisted the best medical treatment in Centre county. We applied freely the Galvanic Oil to the painful part, and gave some inwardly, and in 20 minutes the pain was asleep, and when awakened was free from pain and continued so. This is a positive fact
